ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This Ledger book was brought into the Waterloo Grant Township Library by David Ryan. He asked if it would be of interest to the library and wondered if they would like to copy it. Linda Dunn, the Director of the library contacted me (Roselyn Wells) and asked my opinion. I came into the library and thought it would be of great value to the Researchers of Genealogy or History of Steuben and DeKalb Counties. It is wonderful that people are so willing to share their valuable heirlooms.

The book is a Metz Indiana Store Ledger and has entries dated 1874-1878. It is very interesting to note all the tobacco, etc. bought. This book also has a listing of Purvis and Cary genealogy. There is an entry of a loan given by Eugenia Morley (who is a daughter of George C. Cary and Cordelia Purvis and granddaughter of John Cary and Margaret Ann Snook Cary and George W. Purvis and Sally Morgan Purvis).

A "fun" historical moment is captured by the old receipts written in the ledger book itself and tucked away in the pages. They include receipts using laudanum, whiskey, salt peter, etc. They were commonly used at this period of time. These are included along with the loose sheets of obituaries and school information.

A very big thank you to David Ryan, Linda Dunn and the Waterloo Grant Township Library.

George Aubrey, son of Shirley R. and Nellie C. Teegardin was born March 26 1910, and April 10-1916 passed from this life with the innocence and trust of childhood to transport him from "Shore to Shore". He was a child who seemed to have much promise before him in this life, Being generously endowed with energy and activity, and with a sense of honor above his years, and by his affectionate nature he very closely entwined his life to the hearts and lives of those about him. His devotion and loyalty to his little duties was unfaltering. When assigned a task, his reply would be "All right Papa, or, all right Mamma I will"

His love for his Sunday School was shown by his eagerness to attend, and by his interest and attention in class, and by his ability to carry some thought from the lesson up to review. Also his willingness to perform the little class duties as his turn came. His last duty to his class was to send his birthday offering which he insisted on his brother Preston taking last Sunday.

Little Aubrey leaves to grieve, his parents, a brother older, Preston– who is bereft of a daily companion in work or play or study– a sister Ruth and a little brother Orville, Grand parents and many other relatives, and many friends among old and young.

The funeral was held at the home. Conducted by H. E. Weight. Rev. G. S. Wyant officiating minister.

The school where he had been attending with their teacher Miss Myrtle Lemon were present at the funeral. Six of his schoolmates were pall bearers. Three girls - Beulah Wallberry, Mabel Knight Ruth Snyder -. Three boys - Herman Wallberry, Russel Knight and Paul Snyder. Interment at the Teegardin cemetery.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Grandy made the celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary yesterday an unusually happy event. The friends and relatives of the aged couple gathered at their home on East Lincoln street, where the day was spent in a most delightful manner. Mr. and Mrs. Grandy were married a half century ago in Cordington, O., and have lived in Marion for twenty-six years, having occupied for over a quarter of a century the place where they yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The house was attractively decorated in golden rod and white dalhias, and the color scheme was carried out in the delicious dinner that was served at the noon hour. The anniversary cake, with its fifty candles, was also a feature of the dinner. Several presents were given the couple to remind them of the pleasant event. The guests were Mrs. Lucinda G. Willits of Cardington, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Grandy and family of Warsaw, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Lemon of Warsaw, Mrs. Louis Barge of Indianapolis, Charles Grandy of Bloomington, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Purvis of Cardington, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Esler and family of Marion, Mrs. George Scott and daughter, Miss Aline, of Edon, Ohio, and Mrs. Nathan Metz of Angola.

At the age of ten years, she came with her people to Steuben county into what was then known as the Jackman settlement, and had to endure the privations and hardships necessarily connected with those early years. Nov. 8-1852 she was united in marriage to Albert Morley. To them was born one son, Robert G. who died July 22-1886. She and her husband united with the Methodist Episcopal

OUR COUNTRY'S CALL.

(By Carlton Butler, Salem Center.)

Long have we cherished
This vast unknown
Of our Country's future
Hard toil has sown;
Long have we labored
On every hand
To build this Nation,
Our native land;
Long years have we spent
In earnest toil
To save this Country,
Our native soil;
And long have we watched
Its growing fame
With hopes to preserve
Its honored name.

This hope for years
Has been our pride,
For this how many
Souls have died?
Thousands have died
Or suffered long,
While striving for right
Against the wrong.
With hearts most brave
They suffered pain,
That all this past
Be not in vain,
With sorrow deep
They left loved ones,
And forever parted
Fathers and sons;
In grief they left
Their homes and farms
And joined bravely
The call to arms.

Now with all this
To bear in mind,
Should we at last
Linger behind;
With all the past
Before our eyes,
Should we scorn where
Each hero lies?
O'er all these graves
Of honored dead,
Should there be not
One voice or tread
Of soldier's step
And trumpet call,
Or not a single
Brave man fall
To pay the debt
We owe these dead,
Who for us once
Their blood they shed?

ALBERT STIEFEL.

Albert Stiefel was born at Upper Sandusky, Wyandotte county, O., December 31, 1854; died at his home in Richland township, Steuben county, May 1, 1917, aged 62 years and four months.

In 1875 he came to Edon, O., and entered business as a blacksmith. He was actively engaged in this vocation for 40 years. He began life with no financial aid whaatever, labored diligently, and in spite of the many discouragements that came to his life; strove to surmount every difficulty.

To his children he taught the virtues of honesty, to God and man, and the devotion to labor. Nowhere were these lessons more exemplified than in the walks of his own life.

On March 8, 1877, he was united in marriage to Emma Huber. To them were born five children. The eldest daughter, Lizzie, died in 1899 at the age of 20 years. Those surviving him are his four children, Henry, Emma, Otto and Divilia, and five grand-daughters, also one brother, William Stiefel.

At the death of his wife in 1909, his daughter Emma, with daughters Muriel and Dorothy came to live with him in order that the old home might continue. He took great comfort and interest in his grand daughters. His devotion to them knew no no bounds.

Death has taken from us one whose life was devoted to honesty, industry and brotherly love. His faults we write on the sands of time, his virtues on the tablets of memory — friendship, fidelity and love.

ADDRESS AT THE FUNERAL OF MRS. WILLIAM M. M'CLAMMER, BY REV. WILLIAM CARSON.

I have never seen a more beautiful, sad and affecting scene than this devoted mother and her son, now side by side in their last long sleep among the flowers—two coffins and two graves at the same hour closing over the sweet kindred hopes and fond expectations of the same home. What an impression! Who can forget such a picture of maternal affection which even the strong hand of death could not dissolve. The son passed on before only about a stone's throw; a pioneer, as she made the journey down through the wierd and shadowy valley. We may well believe from the hills beyond where shines the high and eternal noon, he cheerily called back, Come on mother, do not fear, the way is safe, the other children and many whom you love and want to see are here, come on. It is easy for you and me to guess the first faces that peered with angel smiles through the fast, dissolving shadows to greet with heaven's own welcome the approaching mother, the mother whose love was so self-sacrificing and tender, whose pangs brought them forth into the sunlight, a mother whose eyes oft blinded with tears has watched by the cradle of their childhood slumbers, a mother whose prayers have been a Jacob's ladder, over which divine blessings descended on their souls. What a joyous meeting? What a royal welcome heaven only knows how to give. They were pleasant and lovely in their lives and in death they are not divided.

As we look at these forms you loved so long and so well and see them now so pale, so cold and still in death, the eyes grow moist, the heart sickens and we are at once oppressed with a dread solemnity. Why? Because we do not understand. Death to us is mystery. But Christ shows us what it means. Dying is promotion, advancement, going home. It is an enlargement of every power of the soul and a rising into a new sphere, an infinite realm of a bliss that cannot be described. Ought we then to worry over the departure of our Christian friends? For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, so them that sleep in Him shall rise and reign with Him in glory.

Is that the death of the egg out of which the young bird and the new life have come? Is it to sit and brood over the broken shell and weep because of its emptiness? Shall we follow with tearful regret the eagle as it rises and soars exultingly above the happy summer fields, above the forests, above the high cliffs, above the silver rimmed clouds, and feels at home in all the vast sweep of a pure sunlight? While it was in its little narrow shell it found protection and within the walls of that tiny globe, it felt secure, but when once the shell was broken and it came forth, the whole wide cope of heaven bade it welcome. It was advanced, the shell served a good purpose, it had its day, but is now cast off and is necessary no more. The body of this mother and son is as an empty shell, a deserted tabernacle, a meaningless corpse, which will soon disintegrate and turn to dust. But the soul has arisen, returned to God, to be clad in white robes, receive a crown of gold, a sceptre of power and to reign as a king and a priest throughout the endless years. Is not that what we all desire and one day hope to attain? That world is not far off. On the low dark verge of this brief life, lies the twilight of eternal day—a day which shines upon realms though we see them not; as real as any earthly landscape of forest, plain and river. No brain can imagine or tongue describe the beauty of that matchless scene. No tears, no heartaches, no broken friendships, no sad farewells. It is no vague and shadowing world that spreads beyond the grave, but a solid and substantial land of light and bloom, where death is swallowed up in victory, and sorrow is no more.

"A land upon whose blissful shores
There falls no shadow, rests no stain,
Where those who meet shall part no more
And those long parted meet again."

It is a land that has been sought since time's beginning by those who confessed they were strangers and pilgrims in the earth, seeking for a city that hath foundations whose maker and builder is God—a city as real as that in which we live, and where we shall clasp hands as cordially as ever gave their hearty pressure here. It is a delightsome land, a heavenly country—

"Where sweeps no desolating wind
Across that calm serene abode,
The wanderer there a home may find
Within the paradise of God."

But let us turn from these pleasant reflections to review a few events that mark out the long and eventful life of this mother. She was born under Southern skies, far away from the spot where she closed her eye in death. It was on the 22nd day of July, 1829, she opened her eyes on the light of this world. Her parents, Benjamin and Priscella Beeman, died when she was but a child and she was left to meet the struggles and cares and hardships of the world alone, through all her early years. When but a girl of eighteen summers she left South Carolina, her native state, and made the long journey with a brother in a covered wagon to this new country. What strange surroundings? What wild scenes? What loneliness, isolation and home-sickness? Great wooded lands, stretched out in all directions, a great wilderness with here and there a gleam of sunshine, a log cabin and a small clearing in the forest. The prospect was not encouraging, but yet who can tell what bright visions and fond hopes were ever there born in her young heart. She met with courage the toils and cares of pioneer experience and nothing either soured or in any degree depressed her hopeful disposition. All this rather added a touch of womanly strength and tender loveliness to her life. There were few comforts, few opportunities for education and social delights, but she made the best of conditions and developed into a mature and charming womanhood.

She was united in marriage to William McClammer on the 4th of July, 1851, and for more than fifty-five years they traveled the path of love and domestic happiness together. I saw her day after day in the last year of her husband's life watch by her sick and dying bed. I saw at last the scene close and the coffin lid shut down over his inanimate form and we carried him out and laid him to rest in the grave until that day when the earth and the sea shall give up their dead. Eight children, six daughters and two sons, came as sunbeams to bless and brighten their home. But alas, they were often called to mingle their tears over a beloved child in its last unwaking slumber. The two sons and two daughters are now gone to meet their parents beyond the river. The mother may now repeat the saying of the old patriarch: "With my staff have I passed over this Jordan, but now I am become two bands, four on the hither, four on the farther shore of the celestial river, four struggling and suffering still and four at rest with me in heaven."

She was a Christian mother, had a birth-right in the Friends church, followed the example of her divine redeemer and lived and died in the faith. The last five years of her life were spent in ease and comfort amid lovely surroundings. Every want was anticipated and in the beautiful home of Mr. Charles Risk all that a daughter's felial devotion could bestow was done to cheer and brighten the mother's declining years.

After Sabbath evening service I have often sat around the warm fireside of this charming little family. The old folks were always present, always quiet and always welcome and happy. But both now are gone. Often as I bade those old people good bye, left the hospitable hearth-stone and stepped out into the night, I wondered how soon all these kindly associations would end. Well, even now things are slipping away. Perhaps my own work is done here. Perhaps it may take a little longer yet. Perhaps I shall never again stand in the pulpit so long familiar. Human friendship is so fickle and change is everywhere.

But the soul that is anchored in God, every change is a promotion until the last great change comes and we pass up and on into the serene and untroubled land, where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest. God grant that when the curtain rises and the light sifts down upon our dying pillow, we may hear the glad invitation sweet as evening bells from over the river saying, "Well done good and faithful servant, enter into the joys of thy Lord."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness, assistance and sympathy shown us during the illness and burial of our beloved relatives.

A REMINISCENT DREAM

FORMER STEUBEN COUNTY EDUCATOR WRITES.

Recollections of School Days and His Boys and Girls.

By A. W. Long.

"I dreamed a dream
In the midst of my slumbers.
And as fast as I dreamed
It was coined into numbers."

Numbers indeed! A small army in fact—for I dreamed that I was again a teacher, with all my original ambition and enthusiasm restored; with all the boys and girls who were ever pupils of mine again flocking around me. Not the gray haired, sedate men and women of today, but the rollicking, care-free, rosy cheeked, bright-eyed, mischievous boys and girls of 40 and 50 years ago. Again I was busy with the delightful task of arranging classes and assigning lessons. Again I was calling over the long list of names, so familiar to the school room and the play ground; again I was looking into the eager, expectant faces of John, Dick, Aggie, Jennie, Tom and Jimmy Baxter; Cyrus, Esther, Alice, Melissa and Lizzie Cline; Louis, Lafe, Belle, Rebeckah and Rose Stiefel; Kate, Tom, Garry, Charley and Josie Wickwire; Stephen, Frank, Nora, Viola, Howard and Oliver Powers; Bart, Frank, Viola, Augusta and Viva Bigler; Moses, John, Mary, Austin, Ickabod, Etta and Ida Parsell; Frank, Lily, Cora, Lena, Ralph, Edward and Julia Morse; Henry, Segna, Josie, Rose, Samuel and May Weicht; William, Nora, Etta, Ella, Edward, Allie and Josie Leas; John, William, Frank, Sarah and Catherine Zabst; Jason, George, Bide and Eugenia Poland; Josie, Flora, Clara, Mattie, Jeanette and Julia Sowle; Walter, Roy, Molly and Maggie Peachey; George, Alexander, John, Thomas and Lizzie McConnell; May, Charley, Lester and Fred Orton; Harry, Edward, Mahlon and Ulva Ettinger; Will, Zetta, Belle and Morgie Mitchell; Frank, Will, Fred, Allie and Della Chadwick; Edward, Tully, Carrie, Mahlon, Lev, Ida and Jennie Brown; Emily, Sarah and John Dunham; Viva, Alta and Luna Dawson; Greenwood, Sarah, Minnie, Carrie and May Bodley; Dudley, Chester and Byron Marsh; Francis, Chester and Mary Crain; Will, Fred and Free Patterson; George, Belle and Alta Henwood; Bertha, Wilbur and Merton Keech; Lauren, Ora, Edward, Frank, Morton and Belle Smith; George, Charley, Frank, Nora, Emma and Effie Kemery; Ralph, James, Carrie and Jennie Finch; Herman, Otto, Tilly and Louis Shultz; Willis, Ott, Thomas and Stella Welch; Chas., Emma and Alice Ward; Josie, Teety, Edward and Elmer Cowen; Geo., Ada and Victor Hendry; Mary, Seneca and Mattie Dutter; Eugene Ras and Will VanAuken; Newton, Mathew, Emma and Flora Gilbert; Vira, Alice, Will and Paul Croxton; Alcinus, Emmet and Poebe Bratton; John, George and Jennie Staley; John, Rinaldo and Lucy Reid; William, Cora, Mary, Harry, Perry, Lettie, Orpha and Sadie Snyder; Emma, Howard and Jennie Thomas; Heman, Elmer, Wilbur, Elroy, Pet and Ida Carpenter; Ada, Joseph and Robert Badger; Seth, Edward and Amro Avery; Ida, Ona and Charles Weaver; Estella, Lily and Will Parish; Hezekiah, John and Julia Kidney; Amelia, Viola and Sarah Wiggins; Ora, Dora and Della Rice; Mary, Elizabeth and Anna Rakestraw; Tilly and Sally Gregg; Francis and Elva Lamoreux; Mary and Marion Barber; Anna and Maggie Hopkins; George, Carrie and Oscar Mallory; Ella and James Gleason; Lyman and Joseph Langworthy; Sarah and Bertha Shumaker; Kate, Eugene, Emma and Allie Davis; Waldo and Della Gale; Sophie and Irvin Freligh; Ida and Lily MaCartney; Effie and Jennie Sams; Victor and Willis Eberly; Calvin and Lottie Tuttle; Charley and Helen Kunkle; Clarence and Ella Freeman; Helen and Martha Cobb; Josie and Mary Gasser; Leon and Edward Freygang; Eva and Elsie Herrick; Lester and Lois Weiss; Ida and Baldwin Phelps; Mary and Ella La Due; Eula and Fred Vandercook; Ella, Alice and Lena Merry; Hattie and Alice Phenicie; Nellie and Cora Croekett; Virgil and Jessie Little; William, Carrie and Park Hathaway; Stella and Alma Rummell; Edmon and Edgar Spangle; Joseph and Charley Sharrett; Alta and Lola Howard; Carrie and Addie Gibson; Ella and Carrie Abbey; Susie and Effie Ingalls; George and Cora Osfall; Elmer and Alice Orewiler; Frank and Belle Owen; Frank and Charley Jackson; Edward McOscar, John Thompson, Warren, Collins, Ella and John Moss; Nettie and Della Cole; Grant Marcellus and Lincoln Miller; Sol and Don Wood; Eugene and Frank
